A Survivor's Story

p. m., the steamer varuas roundered is the Gulf Stream, thirty miles from Jupiter Inley, on the Florida ceast, daring one of the most terrible hurricanes exer winessed in that latitude. The steamer was thrown beam ends, and went down, only allowing time for two ilfe-boats to put off. One of these, containing Captain Spencer, engineers and firemen, ten in all, was carried down with the vessel, while the other, containing seven of the crew, was finally beached on Jupiter Inlet, two of the men, Samuel McCormick, fireman, and James Flyon, seeman, losing their lives in the breakers. The remainder of the crew-Wm. Kirtland, second mate; Wm. Walince, quarve-master, and Thomas Glennon, James Burna and George Watson, seamen—arrived to-day from Florida and left, fir. New York. Wellace, in his account, asys:

We lest for New York on batterday night, at 7 o'clock, and had fine weather up to the morning of October 20th, when a wind sprung up from the south. At noon there was a moderate gale. As the sun went down it was blowing a perfect hurricane. All went well till 8 o'clock, when the wind shifted to the southwest, the ship became unmanageable. till 8 o'clock, when the wind shifted to the southwest, the ship became unmanageable, and having a list to port, the sac commenced rushing on board on the lee side of the ship, staying in the bulwarks and cabin doors. We tried to get her off before the wind, and put on all the steam we could, but it was no use. I was at the wheel, and we brought her up to the wind again and tried to fix the cabin door, but the sea was reashing on board to such a degree that the men could not work. We then twisted her jib to pay her head off, but it was blown into risbons, although it had been anugly furled. By this time the sea had stoye in the engine house and was rushing down into the fire and en

The Negotiations Broken Off.
A dispatch from the special correspondent of the Tribune, at Berlin, to-day, says, the negotiations for an armistico have been broken of by Thiers, under instructions from Paris.
The reason is not yet made public. Thiers is up again, as a boat hottom up was seen there hours after, but no person was in it. After the ship's mast head was out of sight we thought ourselves all right, as the ship was clear of in, but we counted without our host, for a heavy see capsized the boat; but all managed, after great exertions, to right her and got in again. The ship sgain went down at 2 p. m., and at midnight the weather moderated and was still.

The hardships encountered by the five men were terrible, and while braving the elements sixty hours in an open boat, without food or water except small drops, which served to moisten the tongue and sching lips, the boat was cast on the beach by the breakers, in view of the lighthouse at Jupiter fallet. Only the second mate and a seaman were strong enough to drag themselves to the building for assistance. The rest lay exposed until the keeper sent a boat to take them away.

The passengers, thirty-six m number, without doubt all perished in their state-rooms. When the steamer suddenly lurched over on her beam code the water poured into the cabin, where they were securely fusioned to die shorrible death without even the privilege of battling for existence. Marscilles.

Cox, but it has gone turther, and aroused the angry passions of one of the so vereigns of the State of Ohio. It has brought upon itself this last calamity by printing some reminuscences of General Lux, contributed to its columns by a correspondent at Lexnigton, Va. Last Saturday morning it was foolish enough to say: "A correspondent at Lexington, Virginia, is writing for us personal reminiscences of General Lux. The first of his papers is published this morning."

LEE. The first of his papers is published this morning."

It was not only toolish enough to say this, but it carned the absurdity so far as actually to suffer the reminiscences in question to super in its columns. And this too in an edition which was intended for circulation in Cincinnati, and what was quite as bad, if possible, in Springfield, Obio. Mark the result. No sconer had Mr. "B," a citizen of Springfield, thrown his patriotic eye over the first installment of reminiscences of the great traitor than he sut down and very justly addressed the following protest to the editor of the Cincinnati Genetic, who cheerfully subscribes to every word of it:

A larve majority of the propie of this vicinity.

When will loyal newspapers learn to ex-cited from their Christian columns all mention, whether in praise or blame, of Southern traitors—men who were edu-cated at the expense of the Government, the South retuging all the time to detray a single cent of that expense—and then, Judae-like, turned around and attempted to burst up that Government and trail its holy flag in the dust lion? When will loyal newspasufficient power to shoot down like a par-

The Gazette's "B" evidently has a sing, and it is quite as evident that during the and it is quite as evident that during the late war he made it the instrument through which many a rebel was forced to bite the dust. Gen. Lan was reddened with the blood of this gallant bumble "B." He tells us so himself—"B" does, and there can be no doubt. Other gallant quartermasters or heroic sutlers have been kicked by a mule in the thinnest of the fight, and their blood thus abed in the cause of an

We should like to know how, the Com-mercial can expect to maintain its sub-scription list in and around Springfield while it persists in the suicidal policy of while it persists in the suicidal policy of permitting the treacherous name of Len rest. And we boast of this as a land of liberty. It is descrate its loyal columns. If this giorious Union is ever knocked into kindlingwood again it will be done by just such inexplicable crimes as that of which the Commercial has been guilty. If we would commercial has been guilty. If we would tell us what Mr. Sprend did with his negroes. But then, as Mr. Sprend won't tell Commercial has been guilty. If we would preserve the Union hereafter we must bury the past, with all the rebel names that have been traced upon its history. You can never expect the North to forgive the South so long as rebel names are permitted to appear in print and insult the eyesight of the heroic band who followed Suramars to the sea and plundered the scale horses.

to the sea and plundered the smoke-hor and hen-roosts in the rear. The Gazette's
"B" will tell you so himself. The Federal soldiers who were always at the front, imbruing their bayonets in the blood of them fore, may forgive the Commercial's reminiscences of Robert E. Les, but the gentlemen who lingered in elegant leisure in the rear, filing away books, pictures, planes, and emboidered petilicoats, for furness, ture reference, never can, and neve should. The Two Candidates. The Louisville Commercial says "the Courter-Journal is very explicit in telling us that it can't vote for Mr. Spreed because he was a Union man." The Cour-IEE-JOURNAL is very explicit in doing nothing of the sort. The COURIER-JOURNAL has never had anything to say against General Cox was the only triend the poor be fellow shad in the world. Now that he is no longer in a position to protect them against the ravening wolves of the Radical Executive Committee, who have so long been howling around them, eager to imbrue their hungry and remoracless largs in their meager, aslatic. the bond, the COURIER-JOURNAL holds
Mr. Speed responsible, with no reference whatever to the simple fact that he was for the Union. He is not at all to be blamed for having been a Union man. That was a matter with which he and his own conscience alone have to do. If he was, and is convinced that he was, right in being a Union man, then, that is the end of the argument. Mr. Sprend has given his recognizance to answer before a higher tribunal, as we all have, for our opinions and feelings in that matter, and the Courier-Journal has neither the right nor the inclination to demur. The Cou RIER-JOURNAL has simply called attention to the official acts of Mr. Spreed while Attorney General of the United States, and asked the people to whom he appeals for support to decide at the polls to-morrow whether those acts do or do not meet for support to decide at the polls to-mor-row whether those acts do or do not meet their approbation. Aside from all this, Mr. Speed is the candidate of a party Mr. Speed is the candidate of a party whose principles, the COURIER-JOURNAL

Crawford in Alabama.

Some time age the New York World told us that General Crawroup and Senator Warman were in Washington urging with all their might and main the govtormation, but as that information is not at all reliable, we are forced to do it. If General Crawroko is not a confederate of the carpet-beggers' and ra'lroad ring which has entailed a debt of twenty millions upon the people of Alabama, how is it that we find him canvassing the State to secure the re-election of Gov. Sarra and others who belong to that ring? Among the speakers who addressed a few negroes and still tewer white men at Gov. Smirn's regular appropriates. In Livingstone. leadquarters, was this same Gen. CRAW-road bimself. What was he doing there, two hundred miles from Montgomery, with SMITH and PARSONS and WARNER and Burrox, making speeches in behalf of the carpet-bag and railroad ticket, if he is not the confederate of those men? We the carpet-bag and railroad ticket, if he is not the confederate of those men? We have expressed the belief that Caraw-round's anxiety to command the troops so unnecessarily sent to Alabama grew out of a desire to succeed Warnen in the United States Senate in 1871, or the too conservative Syrncen in 1878, and we entertain that belief still. Dazzled by the success of the little game which Awar palawid; in Mexica little game which Ames played in Missi

Mr. Speed's Opinions
The Louisville Commercial of in an apology for some of the utterly inde-tensible official opinions given by Mr. SPEED while Attorney General of the

MILE Attorney General of the United States, says:

Mr. SFRED was Attorney General at a time when the passions of the war were at their highs. He was frequently called upon to sive oils opinion on the legal status of persons as affected by bett acts of hostility to the Government, or on the status of property as affected by such acts on the part of its owners. Let us see for what crime it was that Mr. Speed condemned the property of Mrs. Johns, of Norfolk, to confiscation were at their hight," the war itself having been over nearly six months—the passion themselves, however, still keeping up their spirits vigorously. After citing certain facts which, in Mr. SPRED's opinion, "show facts which, in Mr. SPERD's opinion, "show that Mr. and Mrs. Johns are traitors," we are told that—

When the rebels, with a treasonable intent, took possession of and asserted and executed countion in Norfolk they did not, as was their country, if you the pixee and seek the protection of the Government but when the Government give protection and freedom to the loyal citizans, they hed with the rebels. Instead of rejoicing, a good and loyal citizans of the old dow-rate give protection and freedom to the loyal citizans, they hed with the rebels. Instead of rejoicing, as good and loyal citizans of the old dow-rate give protection and freedom to the form of the control of the country of the state of the country to rebels and ciaitors all the aid in their power, which was asympathy, countenance and condence. Their conduct shows the title reasonal fact, as a country take up a ms.

As we have already said, this opinio was not given when "the passions of the war were at their hight," or abould have been at their hight, but something more which was ample time, one would think for the passiens of a victorious and magnanimous foe to cool.

To-morrow the Democrats and Radicals of New York and Alabama are to have a contest. The Democrats will fight with ballots—the Radicals with ballots ocrats will fight and bayonets both. We have begged Mr. SPEED with

The Appletons have issued their promised American edition of Huxley's "Ley Ser, mons," which, from the English edition, where already reviewed in those columns. The volume is neat and conventent; and if is to be hoped will have a wide circulation in this country. Huxley is not only a strong thinker and eradite man of science, but also one of the most agreeable and incisive writers to our language. There is a deal of pleasant essay along with a seal of wisdom in this present collection, all of which commends itself to popular consideration.

THE SAYAM ROCKET.

An Extraordinary Military Invention.

[From La France.]

M. L.—, the distinguished civil engineer and chemist, of the rue de Londres, Paris, has invented a rocket which will be a formidable engine of defense. He has christened it the fusee Satan. We have seen this rocket made, and we will endeavor to describe it to our readers. To the end of an ordinary rocket is time exactly the shape of a conical builet. Is this receptacle is arranged a chamber filled with a composition based, we believe, upon sulphuret of carbon, which composition, once lighted, gives out considerable heat. A fusee communicates from this chamber with the top of the rocket. The tim builet is filled, just before being used, with petroleum oil. The lighted rocket rises in the air and traverses the arrived above its object, the rocket et sets fire to the fusee, the composition in the chamber of the builet takes light, bursts its envelope, and at the same time fras the petroleum, which falls like a sheet of flame and continues burning. This sheet of flame mile a space of sixteen to twenty-lour square meltes, according to the size of the rocket. No. 1 throws one litre of petroleum, No. 2 two litres and No. 3 three the rocket, which maintains the elevation given to it at the time of discharge. Some interesting experiments were made with this weapon at 8t. Cloud on the 10th of last month. In less than ten minutes a considerable space of ground was covered with a sea of fire. A committee, composed of superior mens, and the greens la their nead was appalled by the terrible nature of this engine of destruction. Just imagine this sea of fire falling upon the Prussian masses, burning everything, setting light, to ce derritides in the soulder? The committee, composed of superior mens, and the greens la their nead was appalled by the terrible nature of this engine of destruction.
